Imagine a place where your ideas cross borders, where cultures unite, and where your education knows no bounds.

Welcome to Central European University (CEU) in Vienna, where students, faculty and staff from over 100 countries come together in a vibrant, collaborative community.

At CEU, we blend the finest American and European academic traditions, offering degree programs in the humanities and social sciences that are accredited in both the United States and Austria. Our English-language programs are celebrated globally for their academic excellence and their unique interdisciplinary approach, applying learning and research to real-world challenges.

Since our founding in 1991 by George Soros, CEU has been championing the values of open society and self-reflective critical thinking to educate new generations of pioneers, leaders and problem-solvers. Here, you will be empowered to seek solutions and make an enduring impact on the world's complex issues.

Committed to Diversity

At CEU, diversity is one of our greatest strengths. You'll become a part of our lively, multicultural student body, which fuels an academic culture that embraces diverse perspectives in our world renowned curriculum.

We are committed to offering an education that reflects the global community we serve.

What Does Interdisciplinary Mean?

Interdisciplinary refers to an approach that integrates concepts, theories, and methodologies from different disciplines to address complex problems, create new insights, or generate novel solutions.

This approach goes beyond the boundaries of a single field, encouraging collaboration and synthesis across various domains of knowledge.

Academic Excellence

CEU is globally recognized for excellence in fields such as political science, international relations, philosophy, history, legal studies, and economics. Our pioneering programs in emerging areas like cognitive science, network science and data science further enhance our academic reputation and will prepare you for the complexities of the modern world, such as digital transformation, polarized societies, and AI and autonomous systems.

Interdisciplinary Approach

We encourage a forward-thinking, interdisciplinary approach to learning at CEU. Our flexible environment will empower you to tackle 21st-century challenges, such as bioethics, climate change, media freedom, urbanization, and human security. We are committed to addressing these critical issues through collaborative, cross-disciplinary efforts.

Individualized Instruction

Our international faculty, passionate about teaching and research, is dedicated to each student's success. With small class sizes, you're sure to receive personalized guidance, allowing you to think critically and pursue your unique research interests.

This close-knit environment creates a vibrant space for collaboration and debate.

Connecting Research and the Classroom

At CEU, you will be able to engage in research-driven learning that fosters critical thinking and creativity.

Every CEU teacher I've had really cares about what you're getting and is always there to answer questions.

Nelson Bennett
PhD Student in Historical Studies

You will work closely with faculty mentors on innovative projects with the possibility of gaining funding and other support or partnering with top universities, research centers and civil society organizations.

With substantial funding from the European Commission (European Research Council grants, Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions, Collaborative Projects), Austrian agencies, the UN, the US government and international NGOs, your work will drive innovation and address global challenges.

CEU's Science for Society Hub

CEU's Science for Society Hub provides practical and research-backed solutions for challenges faced by civil society partners.

It enhances the social impact of academic teaching and research at CEU by fostering mutually beneficial collaborations with civil society via a threefold approach:

- ▶ Creating opportunities for CEU students to take part in hands-on experiential learning projects and internships
- ▶ Expanding the capacity for CEU faculty to integrate applied and socially responsive research into curricula
- ▶ Linking academic expertise and data-backed solutions to actual cases and inquiries of partnering NGOs, public authorities, communities and schools.

The hub collects ideas from civil society and international organizations and matches the requests with CEU curricula, research and engagement interests of students and faculty related to the topic.

CEU is unique in that it has a wealth of experience and a rich history of working closely with civil society partners to respond to real-world social challenges. This is in line with the university's mission of educating and training the next generation of leaders who are equipped to respond to emerging global and societal challenges that are complex and interdisciplinary in nature.

Romani Studies Program

Immerse yourself in the groundbreaking Romani Studies Program (RSP) at CEU, where you'll join scholars, policy makers, and activists in exploring Roma identity, combating anti-Roma racism, policy making, structural identity and advancing social justice.

Engage in critical debates on gender politics and structural inequality. Our RSP features two core programs: the Roma Graduate Preparation Program and the Advanced Certificate in Romani Studies.

We offer courses for master's and doctoral students, as well as summer programs for global graduate students and activist scholars.

Invisible University

In response to the Russian invasion of Ukraine in February 2022, CEU launched the Invisible University for Ukraine (IUFU) to support Ukrainian students whose education was disrupted by the war. Whether in Ukraine or having found shelter abroad, the IUFU offers a hybrid non-degree academic certificate program designed for Ukrainian bachelor's, master's and doctoral students, integrating their unique learning trajectories into a transnational comparative context.

In partnership with Ukrainian and German institutions and by engaging hundreds of world-renowned scholars, IUFU complements and supports existing educational programs in Ukraine by bridging gaps caused by the war. So far, over 1,800 students have participated in online courses, as well as residential winter and summer schools in Budapest and Lviv. This award-winning program, free of charge, also provides a platform for student voices through the Visible Ukraine online journal (visibleukraine.org). Constantly evolving around the student needs, IUFU has integrated cohorts of students and senior scholars from Belarus and Western Balkans and has expanded to an Invisible Graduate School in 2025.

The Perks of Living in Vienna

Top-Tier Livable City

Ranked among the world's most livable cities, Vienna is perfect for students. With its exceptional quality of life, Vienna offers stunning parks, efficient public transport, safe neighborhoods and an energetic cultural scene. It combines modern urban living with historic charm, providing a perfect balance for your studies and leisure.

Our Campus

Our CEU campus is in Favoriten, the dynamic 10th district of Vienna. Easily accessible by tram, train and subway, it's one of the city's most multicultural neighborhoods.

Multicultural City

Vienna thrives as a vibrant melting pot, inviting you to immerse yourself in a rich tapestry of cultures. Experience year-round festivals celebrating global cuisines, traditions, and music, offering a dynamic cultural landscape right at your doorstep.

The City and Its Surrounding Areas

Vienna's outstanding public transport system and extensive network of cycle paths make the city easy to navigate. You can reach most places within 30 minutes.

Just 100 kilometers away, the Alps offer hiking and biking in summer and skiing in winter. Plus, Eastern Europe, Northern Italy, and Southern Germany are just a train ride away, and the Vienna airport connects you to over 200 global destinations.

I strongly believe that if we want to make real change in our society, we can't just have one discipline. We need to know a lot of things from different perspectives to address complex problems. At CEU, I'm exposed to new ideas, and I'm adapting the way I learn.

Embracing Sustainability

At CEU, sustainability isn't just a concept—it has been our commitment since 1994.

CEU envisions a world where education empowers societies to make informed decisions about the environment, sustainable development, and the well-being of current and future generations. Its mission is to serve as a source of knowledge and inspiration for those working to advance the well-being of people and the planet.

In line with this vision, CEU adopted a Sustainable Development Policy in 2006 and signed the Copernicus Charter as early as 1994. To support implementation efforts, the university established the CEU Sustainability Advisory Committee (CSAC) in 2010. CSAC's Declaration outlines actionable steps CEU can consider to deepen its commitment to sustainability.

Student engagement is central to these efforts. The Sustainable CEU action team, a student-led initiative, promotes sustainability on campus and in the broader community.

What We Do on Campus

- ▶ Smart printing
- ▶ Energy efficiency and conservation
- ▶ Clothing swaps
- ▶ Recycling bins on every floor
- ▶ Sustainable building management

Here, learning extends beyond the classroom, blending seamlessly with an exciting, supportive, and engaging environment. Embrace the possibilities, ignite your passions, and make the most of every moment at CEU!

A Thriving Campus Life

Our campus is a lively hub of activity, where events and discussions on urgent global issues keep the energy high and the ideas flowing.

The Student Center and the Student Engagement Office are your gateway to an array of extracurricular activities, including cultural, sports & outdoor programs which include bouldering, coffee beats, and therapy dogs to name a few. Immerse yourself in creativity and connect with a community that celebrates cultural diversity and expression.

Public Talks

Expand your horizons with our dynamic lecture series, featuring internationally renowned experts and covering a range of thought-provoking topics such as the erosion of democracy to explorations of minority rights and renewable energy. The goal is to inspire you to think critically and act boldly.

Personalized Support

Our dedicated service units, such as the Student Center and Center for Academic Writing, offer you the academic assistance or technical support you deserve. We also provide psychological counseling to ensure your well-being.

Tuition & Financial Aid

Bachelor's Students

Financial aid for bachelor's students is primarily offered as partial tuition awards, recognizing outstanding academic achievement. These merit-based awards help talented students make a CEU education more accessible and rewarding.

Doctoral Students

Doctoral scholarships include a full tuition award and a monthly stipend for living expenses. Additionally, doctoral students are eligible to receive Doctoral Research Support Grants.

To learn more about institutional financial aid and external funding opportunities, please visit ceu.edu/admissions/financial-aid

Master's Students

CEU benefits from the generosity of donors, including many alumni, whose support helps outstanding students pursue their studies. Each year, CEU awards talented master's students a range of merit-based partial tuition scholarships, allowing them to focus on their academic and professional development.

Erasmus Scholarship

Administered through CEU, other scholarships include the Erasmus Mundus scholarship and Erasmus research grants.
