

© Central European University, 2025. The information contained in this brochure is correct at the time of publication but may be subject to change.

43rd
In the World for Politics*

28th
In Political Science

DEPARTMENT OF

Political Science

Central European University

Quellenstrasse 51 · 1100 Vienna · Austria

@weareceu Central European University

Central European University

ceu.edu

ceu.edu/departments/political-science

*Based on QS World Rankings by Subject 2024,  Based on Shanghai Ranking by Subject 2024 - Image: Adobe Stock

At CEU's Department of Political Science, you'll gain cutting-edge methodological skills while exploring your thematic passions in depth. You will be studying alongside world-class scholars in a vibrant, international environment that challenges and inspires.

Anil Duman
Head of Department

Master of Arts in Politics · 1 or 2 years

Our internationally focused curriculum equips you with a critical understanding of the pressing challenges facing today's political communities and their citizens. By transcending borders and disciplines, we offer a comparative perspective while empowering you with practical, transferable skills. Broaden your horizons through cross-country research projects and tap into research grants and travel funds to attend global conferences.

Choose the one-year track for an immersive, accelerated experience, or the two-year option, now with the dual degree below, for in-depth research and international mobility. Eligibility depends on academic background.

Dual Degree with the University of Konstanz

The two-year program includes a new dual degree option with the University of Konstanz, one of Germany's top ranked institutions.

Study in Vienna and Konstanz and earn two internationally recognized degrees: CEU's MA in Politics and Konstanz's MA in Politics and Public Administration. The curriculum emphasizes political theory, comparative politics, and political economy, complemented by comprehensive training in research methods.

PhD in Political Science

Join CEU's prestigious Doctoral School of Political Science, Public Policy, and International Relations, where you'll explore fields like comparative politics, political theory, political economy, international relations, and public policy. Through rigorous academic training, you'll build deep expertise in your chosen field and contribute to cutting-edge research in political science.

Did you know?

Our department hosts weekly, hybrid events where internal and external political science experts lead in-depth discussions.

For upcoming events, please visit events.ceu.edu/host/department-political-science

Enhance your career trajectory by specializing in:

- ▶ Comparative Politics
- ▶ Democracy and Social Change
- ▶ Political Behavior
- ▶ Political Economy
- ▶ Research Methods and Techniques
- ▶ Social and Political Theory