PSB University Cambodia

His Holiness Samdech Preah Abhisiri Sugandha Mahasangharajah Dhipati Kitti Udesa Pandita Bour Kry, the Great Supreme Patriarch of Dhammyutta of the Kingdom of Cambodia, founded the Preah Sanghareach Bour Kry Buddhist High School, located within the Svay Pope Monastery in Phnom Penh. Students who completed their secondary studies needed to pursue their academic education at a higher level.

However, universities in Cambodia were not adequately equipped to meet the needs of very poor students, such as the novice monks of the Dhammyutta Order. The urgent need to create a new institution to address this crucial gap was strongly felt.

Preah Sihamoniraja Buddhist University (PSBU), Cambodia, was officially established on July 24, 2007, under sub-decree number 86 and recognized by the Accreditation Committee of Cambodia. Named by Preah Bat Norodom Sihamoni, the King of Cambodia, and directed by Samdech Preah Moha Sanghareach Bour Kry, the current Supreme Patriarch of the Dhammyutta Order of Cambodia, PSBU produced 954 graduates in 2020 and currently has 1,675 students enrolled in both Bachelor's and Master's degree programs across four faculties: Philosophy, Religion and Law, Educational Sciences and Literature, Pali Sangkrit and Foreign Languages, and Information Technology - Computer Science.

The Buddhist University was established under the high patronage of His Majesty Preah Bat Samdech Preah Boromneath Norodom Sihamoni of Cambodia and proudly carries His August name. It also receives active support from the Ministry of Cult and Religions, the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports, as well as administrative staff, civil servants, and civilians. The university operates under the supervision of the Ministry of Cult and Religions and is headquartered in the Svay Pope Monastery, Sangkat Tonle Bassac, Khan Chamkar Mon, Phnom Penh.

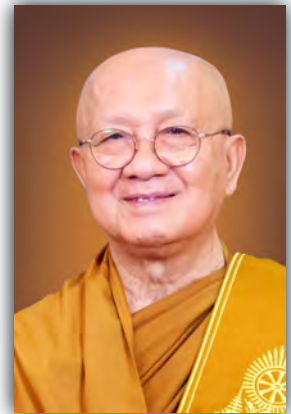

Classes are conducted by national professors with expertise in teacher training at the Doctorate and Master's levels. The university intends to establish partnerships with friendly countries, particularly Buddhist

Spirit and Principles of the University

The founder of Preah Sihamoniraja Buddhist University envisions instilling a spirit grounded in the Buddha's teachings to cultivate a culture of peace, humanism, tolerance, and harmony in our society. By reinforcing the Blessed One's teachings through higher education, we aim to foster understanding, solidarity, and compassion among men and women within the same society. Moreover, this approach will promote more tolerant and friendly relations among all people.

The primary goal of the Buddhist University is to create a reservoir of the best human resources, who are not only well-educated in general training and technical skills but also deeply rooted in Buddhist principles and values. The university is also committed to the preservation of Buddhism, along with Khmer culture and traditions, while providing the necessary intellectual foundations for the development of modern Khmer society.

Recognizing the significant needs of the country, Preah Sihamoniraja Buddhist University is actively engaged in the noble mission of contributing to the nation's reconstruction and intellectual revival, which is so urgently needed. We have both the determination and the capability to participate in this reconstruction. The university is prepared to train and provide human resources equipped with sufficient knowledge in Buddhist spiritual sciences as well as in the most modern technologies. These capabilities will empower our younger generations to meet new challenges, navigate the complexities of the contemporary world, and comprehend the role of Cambodia in the global context.

Our youth will possess the intellectual, spiritual, and technical skills necessary to ensure the continuity and flourishing of our culture and civilization, while also advancing the country's economic potential to combat poverty.

With this scholarship, we are deeply committed to providing higher education that instills hope in all our students—hope to graduate with a high level of knowledge, hope to secure well-paying jobs to support their families, hope to stand on equal footing with other educated individuals, and hope to bring dignity to themselves and their communities. A Golden Opportunity for study at PSB University Cambodia

It is with great pride that I share the remarkable achievements of Preah Sihamoniraja Buddhist University (PSBU) in our ongoing journey to excel in higher education and community service.

Through our relentless efforts, PSBU has secured prestigious memberships, accreditations, and recognitions from esteemed international agencies such as the Accreditation Service for International Schools, Colleges and Universities (ASIC), International Association for Quality Assurance in Pre-Tertiary & Higher Education (QAHE) and World Education Services (WES). Our active participation in the International Network for Quality Assurance Agencies in Higher Education (INQAAHE) and the International Association of Universities (IAU) demonstrates our commitment to global dialogues on quality assurance and higher education. Additionally, our premier status with Times Higher Education (THE), the International Education Accreditation Council (IEAC), and the Accreditation Committee of Cambodia (ACC) underscores our dedication to academic excellence.

We are continuously working to enhance our local university rankings and improve our standing within the ASEAN and international academic communities. Our efforts to promote Buddhism and support the Buddhist community are integral to our mission of integrating cultural and spiritual values with academic excellence.

A cornerstone of our mission is the PSBU Foundation, which aims to make education accessible for disadvantaged students throughout Cambodia. The Foundation's initiatives include sending English teachers to rural areas, donating school supplies, and facilitating skills development through native speaker visits. These efforts are vital in providing opportunities to students who would otherwise face significant barriers to higher education.

At PSBU, we are dedicated to making a positive impact on the lives of our students and the broader community. We are proud of our achievements and remain committed to our vision of providing high-quality education and fostering a supportive and inclusive environment.

Thank you for your continued support.
