

THE APPOINTMENTS

Contents

Senior Management/Heads of Department	57-62
Professors/Readers/Principals/Senior Lecturers	62-68
Lecturers/Fellows/Tutors/Researchers/Studentships	67-70
Academic Related Posts	70

EXECUTIVE FOCUS Pages 26-27

To place an advertisement please write to:

Recruitment Advertising
Times Higher Education
26 Red Lion Square
Holborn, London WC1R 4HQ
Tel: 020 3194 3399
Email: recruitment@ timeshighereducation.co.uk

Booking deadline:

Monday 10 am the week
of publication.

Your advertisement will appear on www.timeshighereducation.co.uk/jobs for 4 weeks or until the application closing date if stated (whichever is sooner), unless specified otherwise or for technical reasons we are unable to display it.

All advertisements published are subject to terms and conditions of TSL Education Ltd (available on request).

University of South Wales
Prifysgol
De Cymru

Heads of School x 6

Business | Computing & Mathematics | Applied Science | Drama & Music | Media | Art & Design

Salary: £67,394-£69,411 per annum

The new University of South Wales began its formal journey in April 2013 following an amalgamation of the University of Glamorgan and the University of Wales Newport. It is now a major player in the UK higher education sector with more than 30,000 students, and its unique heritage, clear pedigree and sheer scale gives USW a fantastic opportunity to make a significant impact within the region, nationally and internationally building on numerous strengths of the two combining institutions.

The new University seeks outstanding individuals to lead the schools. You will be required to provide academic leadership within the School, focussing on the development and delivery of academic activities and operational management of the School. You will have experience in leading, managing and contributing to the development and delivery of strategic and operational plans. Further information can be obtained through visiting our website.

Closing date: Friday 5th July, 2013

Details and application form are available on our website:

www.southwales.ac.uk/jobs

FREE online recruitment advertising for support roles*

Unique to Times Higher Education, this exclusive offer is designed to support ALL UK universities.

*Excludes senior management, heads of department, leaders, lecturers, fellowships, tutors, researchers, academic support and salaries of £45,000 per annum and above. Free until 31 August 2013.

THE SUPPORT

To find out more call

020 3194 3399

THE UNIVERSITY OF QUEENSLAND

Head of the School of Human Movement Studies

The Faculty of Health Sciences at The University of Queensland seeks to appoint a Head of the School of Human Movement Studies to succeed Professor Doune Macdonald.

The University of Queensland is ranked 46th in the world in the QS World University Rankings, released in 2012. In the Times Higher Education's 2012–2013 rankings, it was in the top 35 universities in the clinical and health disciplines.

Human Movement Studies is one of seven schools within the Faculty of Health Sciences. The Faculty which offers the widest range of health study areas of any Australian University, featuring more than a dozen disciplines, has a reputation for research discoveries with local and global impact. In the field of Human Movement and Sports Sciences, UQ was judged to be well above world standard (score 5/5) in the Australian Research Council's 2012 ERA evaluation (Excellence of Research in Australia).

Located on the St Lucia campus near the University's main Sports Precinct, the School of Human Movement Studies is internationally renowned as one of Australia's leading education and research centres in human movement sciences. Researchers and academics draw on the biophysical and sociocultural sciences to extend, apply and transmit knowledge and understanding about human movement.

Focusing on many fields including exercise and sport sciences, health, sport, physical education, sport coaching, sport and exercise psychology, nutrition and dietetics, the School provides leading edge education and research programs, as well as general and specialist services to elite athletes, the elderly, children, those suffering from chronic disease and people with disabilities. The goal is to promote health and wellbeing, and optimal physical performance, of individuals and populations of all ages. The new Head of School will take a leading role in determining and managing this strategic direction.

The University seeks vibrant and exceptional people to consider seriously this exciting opportunity. You will be PhD qualified in the area of Kinesiology, Human Movement, or other health related field and have a strong academic background with a substantial publication record in quality journals.

The term of appointment will be for an initial period of five years with opportunity for renewal. An attractive remuneration package is offered.

For a confidential discussion and an e-copy of the Information Book, please contact Dr Jim Sait, telephone +61 2 8904 1532 or email UQHMS@bspes.com

Applications close 5 August 2013

executive search

BSP

Braithwaite
Steiner
Pretty

uq.edu.au/uqjobs

YOUR UQ.
YOUR ADVANTAGE.

GROUP OF EIGHT MEMBER

CHICOS Provider Number 000258

650,000
unique online visitors a month*.

Bespoke print and online packages available to suit your recruitment needs.

Call 020 3194 3399

Email recruitment@timeshighereducation.co.uk

*Autome SiteCatalyst (Comscore), Sep 2011 - Aug 2012, avg. excluding VPIB spikes

FREE
online recruitment advertising

International Officers Student Counsellors Careers Consultants Facilities Managers
Librarians Registry Officers Human Resource Partners Finance Managers
Communications Officers Learning Systems Developers...
Student Recruitment Managers Marketing Managers

Recruit these roles and more for FREE with THESUPPORT

Call 020 3194 3399 or visit www.timeshighereducation.co.uk/support

Email your support roles to: support@timeshighereducation.co.uk

*Excludes senior management, heads of department, leaders, lecturers, fellowships, tutors, researchers, academic support and salaries of £45,000 per annum and above. Free until 31 August 2013.

AT LEEDS METROPOLITAN UNIVERSITY WE'RE INVESTING IN THE NEXT GENERATION OF STUDENT ADMINISTRATION SERVICES

Our Future and Yours

Associate Director – Student Planning and Reporting Services Associate Director – Registry Services

Join our brand new team in Student Administration Services and you could play a fundamental role in our future. We are looking for two outstanding individuals to drive forward these truly pivotal leadership roles.

Whether you join the team in Student Planning and Reporting Services or Registry Services, you can rest assured you will receive all the support and opportunities you need to make a real difference in our future direction.

Working closely with the Director of Student Administration Services, you will develop and deliver a student focused strategy that will contribute to providing an excellent experience for all our service users, and to the achievement of our University's Strategic Plan.

As an experienced professional administrator you will have outstanding technical skills and the expertise to support the delivery of an excellent service. A strong track record in team leadership and management, and the ability to build, sustain and manage good stakeholder relationships is also essential for each of these roles.

Interviews will take place on 31st July or 1st August 2013

Closing Date: 19th July 2013

Further details about these roles and an application form are available from our website www.leedsmet.ac.uk/jobs

Leeds Metropolitan University values the diversity of its workforce and student population and welcomes applications from all sections of the community.

LEEDS
METROPOLITAN UNIVERSITY

www.leedsmet.ac.uk/jobs

Edge Hill University

University Secretary and Pro Vice-Chancellor

Salary: Negotiable, plus benefits and relocation

Ref: EHM0077-0613

Edge Hill University is seeking to appoint a new University Secretary and Pro Vice-Chancellor from January 2014, following the retirement of Lesley Munro after a decade of outstanding service.

The University Secretary holds lead responsibility for key aspects of the University's Student Administration, is a member of the Directorate (alongside the Vice-Chancellor and the two Deputy Vice-Chancellors) and is one of four Pro Vice-Chancellors. You will report direct to the Vice-Chancellor.

Unusually for a post of this nature, the University is prepared to be flexible in defining the postholder's responsibilities, believing that appointing the right person is as important as procuring a precise skill-set. We are interested in attracting applications both from individuals who are experienced at the highest level and from those who have the potential to become the University leaders in the future. We expect the successful candidate to attract remuneration in the range of £70,000 to £100,000 per annum plus benefits.

It is anticipated that you will take lead responsibility for:

- the Director of Student Services and her teams
- the Academic Registrar and his staff
- the Head of Careers and her staff
- the Head of Admissions and her teams and will have oversight of legal, administrative, ceremonial and governance matters. It is also anticipated that, in time, you will take responsibility for Governors' meetings.

In addition, the University is interested in hearing from candidates who may have further strengths they would wish the Appointing Panel to consider. These may include any (or none) of communications and marketing, quality assurance, schools liaison, widening participation, international activity, policy and planning and institutional data returns. Whilst these roles are overseen by other members of the senior team, we have a flexible approach to working which seeks to allow individuals to utilise their own strengths to the benefit of the University.

For further information please visit our Microsite at <http://www.edgehill.ac.uk/jobs/directorate/>

For an online application form and job description, please visit www.edgehill.ac.uk/jobs

Closing date: 19 July 2013.

Interviews will be held 18/19 September 2013.

edgehill.ac.uk/jobs

Edge Hill University, St Helens Road, Ormskirk,
Lancashire L39 4QP United Kingdom

FREE online recruitment advertising for support roles*

THE SUPPORT

020 3194 3399

*Excludes senior management, heads of department, leaders, lecturers, fellowships, tutors, researchers, academic support and salaries of £45,000 per annum and above. Free until 31 August 2013.

THE
Times Higher Education

650,000
unique online visitors
a month*.

Bespoke print and online packages
available to suit your
recruitment needs.

* Adobe SiteCatalyst (Omniture), Sep 2011 - May 2012, avg. excluding WUR spikes

Call 020 3194 3399
Email recruitment@timeshighereducation.co.uk

HireWire
For Higher Education

Transform your school recruitment process

HireWire is a free and easy to use online service that helps you effectively manage the entire recruitment process.

www.hirewire.co.uk

London
South Bank
University

Faculty of Arts and Human Sciences,
Department of Psychology

Head of Psychology Department – Grade 11

Full Time Permanent Position – Southwark Campus

£58,123 - £65,401 per annum

We are seeking to appoint a Head of Department with the vision, drive and creativity to build upon the Department's achievements and take it forward in terms of portfolio and curriculum development, improving the student experience, developing external partnerships and, income generating activities, and the further development of an already strong research and scholarship profile.

The post calls for an individual with strong managerial and resource management skills, a clear focus on student satisfaction and progression, and the ability to generate external enterprise income. Leadership in the area of curriculum development and the ability to integrate this with both the research strengths of the Department and pedagogic innovation is essential, as is the potential to make a wider contribution to the work of the Faculty.

For further information and to apply, visit:
www.lsbu.ac.uk/jobs

Closing date: 5 July 2013 Interview date: 24 July 2013 Ref: J00200

London South Bank University is an Equal Opportunities Employer.

the brighter choice

Appointment of Director of Estates

Royal Holloway, University of London is an institution acknowledged globally for excellence in research, innovation and for its strong commitment to delivering class-leading teaching and learning experiences. With an established track record of research leadership, investment in top-class staff and facilities, and partnerships with government, industry and other organisations, Royal Holloway is deeply engaged regionally, nationally and internationally.

Over 120 years ago our founder, Thomas Holloway, built one of the most beautiful University buildings in Britain. Royal Holloway is now embarking on our most ambitious building programme since 1886 when our signature Founder's building opened. We are looking for an Estates Director who can nurture and sustain this Victorian Grade 1 listed building and develop and implement an estates programme that will give us modern buildings that will be as cherished in 125 years time as Founder's building is today.

As the external environment of higher education changes, the student experience will be fundamental to the continued success of the University and the built environment will be key to that experience. The successful delivery of our new Estates Programme will be crucial to the success of the ambitious Strategy that Royal Holloway will be unveiling in the autumn.

If this is a challenge that excites you apply to:
<https://rhul.engageats.co.uk>

The successful candidate will have a professional building qualification and experience of Estates Management in a large service driven organisation.

The deadline for applications is midnight on 21st July 2013. 1st stage interviews will take place on 26th July 2013, with final interviews on 5th August 2013.

The College is committed to equality and diversity, and encourages applications from all sections of the community.

Royal Holloway
University of London

University of the West of England

bettertogether

Head of Student Support and Wellbeing

£45,941 - £54,826

An ambitious university, UWE Bristol is committed to advancing knowledge, inspiring people and transforming futures.

The Student Services Department within UWE are looking for a Head of Student Support and Wellbeing with a strong professional and managerial background in student support services. You will be a member of the services' senior management team, leading and managing highly complex and challenging areas of professional practice, supporting strategic planning and taking responsibility for operational delivery, and ensuring effective working relationships with other services and faculties. You will offer advice and support across the institution in relevant areas, including high risk and emotionally charged student cases.

You will have a breadth and depth of experience in a professional service within a large complex organisation (e.g. Higher Education) and be able to show full working knowledge and proficiency in your area of expertise.

Recognised as having specialist expertise and knowledge in your field, you will possess a track record in managing income generating services and be able to remain calm and think clearly in difficult situations.

You will have a degree qualification, a higher degree or formal professional qualification, full membership of a professional body as recognised and required for the post and evidence of CPD.

You can look forward to joining a thriving academic community.

Closing date: 21 July 2013

Ref: 1338168

UWE is committed to equality and values diversity; to work for an employer that aspires to achieve excellence through inclusion, please visit:

uwe.ac.uk/jobs

Director of Informal Adult Education

The London Jewish Cultural Centre is recruiting a Director to be in post by December 2013. You can read about us on www.ljcc.org.uk and also view our Summer 2013 brochure.

We combine formal educational programs (GCSE to a Master's program) with large programs of informal adult education during the day and in the evening. There are two full time staff in the department and 40 Scholars in residence or sessional teachers, several of international standing, in a wide range of subjects. Programmes range from one day events to 10 week courses once a week. Students are vocal, opinionated and fully engaged. The stimulation of working at LJCC is its range of activities and as a senior manager, the Director is involved in programs in different areas of the organisation. 1,800 people a week can be involved in this exciting 'space'. About 80% of the content is Jewish studies or Holocaust related themes.

We would like to hear from interesting, creative people who have ideally worked in informal adult education, can work comfortably in a multidisciplinary environment and lead a strong professional team. They can be of any humanities academic discipline and will be expected to teach their own area of specialism for 4-6 hours a week.

Candidates will be educated to at least Master's level, have experience in informal education, ideally with adults, have managerial experience and be able to operate comfortably in a non-hierarchical collegiate, environment.

Remuneration is at the appropriate level for such a position. The position is based in North West London.

Please apply by CV with an attached letter persuading us that you are a serious candidate for the position. Include details of your current pay package.

Please write to Mrs L Jacobs, Chief Executive, LJCC Ivy House, 94-96 North End Road, London NW11 7SX. Closing date for applications is 19 July 2013.

UNIVERSITY OF
WOLVERHAMPTON
KNOWLEDGE • INNOVATION • ENTERPRISE

CENTRE FOR ART, DESIGN, RESEARCH AND EXPERIMENTATION (CADRE), SCHOOL OF ART AND DESIGN

The University has ambitious plans to develop its research base in areas where significant strength already exists and in some new areas critical to its regional mission. It has continued to invest heavily in building links with business and we believe our research has an important role to play in the economic future and regeneration of the region.

We are now making preparations for even more of our research to be recognised as "world-leading". In order to underpin these plans for the future the University wishes to recruit world-class individuals to a number of senior research appointments across key areas of the university's portfolio. We are investing a further £6m in Research posts and £45m in improving our facilities including a new Business School and state-of-the-art science laboratories.

We are very keen to hear from outstanding individuals to join us in order to take forward the following area of our research portfolio:

Professor of Design

£57,758 - £65,154 pa

The Material and Theoretical Practice research group at CADRE is expanding its focus on social and ecological sustainability through cross-disciplinary hybrid practices. To achieve this, the School is seeking to appoint a Professor of Design (Fashion/Textiles Design Theory and Practice) with specific expertise in digital technologies and/or social and ecological sustainability who will provide research leadership in this area. The focus is on the dual role of digital and additive manufacturing in promoting both slow and fast fashion and design, its impact on social and ecological sustainability, and how manual-digital hybrid practices can offer new design and business models. The position has the purpose of investigating and theorising current new craft-design hybrid practices and their impact in relation to life-style design.

The appointment will strengthen and provide leadership for this key research area of the Material and Theoretical Practice Research Cluster. The Professor of Design will be expected to foster existing and new links with industry, and to expand existing consultancy to further external income into the department. The appointment will also support our largest single teaching area and contribute to the development of a new MA.

Remuneration packages may include research expenses and support posts and PhD Studentships may be available in certain cases. Ref B5971

Closing date: 12 July 2013.

For more information about this post and to apply online, go to our website www.wlv.ac.uk/jobs

www.wlv.ac.uk/jobs

The University of Wolverhampton values a diverse workforce and welcomes applications from all sections of the community.

Transform your school recruitment process

HireWire is a free and easy to use online service that helps you effectively manage the entire recruitment process.

HireWire
For Higher Education

www.hirewire.co.uk

Join outstanding Academics from around the world

Northumbria University is a research-active and business-focused professional university with key strengths in both research and teaching. With over 34,000 students from 120 countries we are the biggest university in the North East and engage in extensive international activity.

In line with our exciting Vision for 2025, we have ambitious plans for development and continue to make significant investment into our academic teams.

Faculty of Health and Life Sciences

The Faculty provides an exciting environment for a diverse community of researchers and students. Its programmes are consistently recognised as being excellent in quality assessments.

- Professor in Disability and Inclusion
- Reader in Community Development & Enterprise
- Reader in Social Work
- Senior Lecturer in Social Work
- Senior Lecturer in Continuous Professional Development for Health

Faculty of Arts, Design and Social Sciences

With high-quality research, and a particular strength in practice-led research as well as outstanding teaching, the Faculty offers a unique range of subjects in a multi-disciplinary environment.

- Professor in Criminology
- Professor/Reader in Fine Art
- Professor/Reader in Early Modern British or European History (1500-1750)
- Reader in Industrial Design

- Reader in Fashion Design Practice
- Senior Lecturer/Lecturer in Performing Arts Practice and Theory
- Senior Lecturer in Criminology
- Senior Lecturer/Lecturer in TESOL/Applied Linguistics
- Senior Lecturer/Lecturer in Graphic Design
- Senior Lecturer/Lecturer in Fashion Design
- Senior lecturer/Lecturer in Fashion Communication
- Senior Lecturer/Lecturer in Social Sciences (1 year fixed term)

We offer an attractive reward package, a commitment to people development, flexible working and a modern working environment. Newcastle is a vibrant city surrounded by superb beaches and countryside and is regarded as one of the best places in the UK to live and work.

For further information about these roles and to apply, visit: www.northumbria-academic.co.uk

Northumbria is an equal opportunities employer

Join a leading Australian university

The University of Western Australia is ranked among the top 100 universities in the world. Its highly successful Faculty of Arts invites internationally competitive scholars to apply for positions created through growth and external funding.

WINTHROP PROFESSOR (International Security Studies)

POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS, SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCES, FACULTY OF ARTS

Applications are invited for a tenurable appointment as Winthrop Professor (Level E) in the field of International Security Studies, located in the discipline of Political Science and International Relations in the School of Social Sciences within the Faculty of Arts at The University of Western Australia.

This senior appointment in international security studies, broadly conceived, will lead a growing research concentration in this area at UWA, teach undergraduate and postgraduate subjects in relevant fields, and have the opportunity to work collaboratively with the new US-Asia Centre at UWA. The appointee will be an internationally recognised scholar in international security studies, a successful applicant for competitive research grants, an experienced supervisor of graduate research students and an outstanding academic leader.

For further information regarding the position, applicants are encouraged to direct enquiries to the Dean of Arts, Winthrop Professor Krishna Sen, email: krishna.sen@uwa.edu.au

Closing date: Friday, 19 July 2013

An attractive remuneration package will be negotiated including generous superannuation, leave provisions and fares to Perth (if applicable) for the appointee and dependants along with a relocation allowance.

The Information for Candidates brochure which includes details to submit your application may be found at <https://www.his.admin.uwa.edu.au/Advertising/SecurityStudiesCandidateInformation.pdf> or via a link at <http://jobs.uwa.edu.au/> or by contacting Ms Toni Pilgrim, Human Resources, email: toni.pilgrim@uwa.edu.au

WINTHROP PROFESSOR (International Development Studies)

POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS, SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCES, FACULTY OF ARTS

Applications are invited for a tenurable appointment as Winthrop Professor (Level E) in the field of International Development Studies, located in the discipline of Political Science and International Relations in the School of Social Sciences within the Faculty of Arts at The University of Western Australia.

This senior appointee will have internationally recognised expertise in the politics of comparative development, will lead a new research focus in this area at UWA, and will teach undergraduate and postgraduate subjects in relevant areas. It is anticipated that the appointee will also contribute to the creation of a new multidisciplinary MA involving one or more other disciplines and centres both within and outside the Faculty of Arts. The appointee will be a successful applicant for competitive research grants, an experienced supervisor of graduate research students and an outstanding academic leader. It is expected that the appointee will enhance relations between UWA and major governmental and non-governmental agencies related to international development.

For further information regarding the position, applicants are encouraged to direct enquiries to the Dean of Arts, Winthrop Professor Krishna Sen, email: krishna.sen@uwa.edu.au

Closing date: Friday, 9 August 2013

An attractive remuneration package will be negotiated including generous superannuation, leave provisions and fares to Perth (if applicable) for the appointee and dependants along with a relocation allowance.

The Information for Candidates brochure which includes details to submit your application may be found at <https://www.his.admin.uwa.edu.au/Advertising/DevelopmentStudiesCandidateInformation.pdf> or via a link at <http://jobs.uwa.edu.au/> or by contacting Ms Toni Pilgrim, Human Resources, email: toni.pilgrim@uwa.edu.au

THE UNIVERSITY OF
WESTERN AUSTRALIA | A CENTURY OF
ACHIEVEMENT
Achieve International Excellence 1913 - 2013

UNWH00917

UWA is smoke free

jobs.uwa.edu.au

FREE

Advertise your professional support roles online for FREE quickly and easily*

Call 020 3194 3399 or visit www.timeshighereducation.co.uk/support
Email your support roles to: support@timeshighereducation.co.uk

THE SUPPORT

*Excludes senior management, heads of department, leaders, lecturers, fellowships, tutors, researchers, academic support and salaries of £45,000 per annum and above. Free until 31 August 2013.

650,000
unique online visitors a month*.

Bespoke print and online packages available to suit your recruitment needs.

* Adobe SiteCatalyst (Omniure), Sep 2011 - Aug 2012, avg, excluding WUR spikes

Call 020 3194 3399 Email recruitment@timeshighereducation.co.uk

A new School of Veterinary Medicine

Understanding, progress and excellence all stem from curiosity. At the University of Surrey, we thrive on looking into new and innovative ways of understanding and improving the world around us.

Opening in September 2014, our new School of Veterinary Medicine aims to create a wealth of new knowledge, taking a multi-disciplinary approach to veterinary education and research, and creating the veterinary leaders of the future. With international and multi-partner collaborations, and with over £40m of investment into state-of-the-art equipment, teaching and research facilities, it could open up a world of possibilities for you too. So join us at the forefront of developments in veterinary sciences.

See more, and apply, at www.curiosity.surrey.ac.uk

Curious about the link between animal and human health?
So are we.

Sheffield
Hallam
University

Professor / Reader in Sport Management

Faculty of Health and Wellbeing

Sport Industry Research Centre (SIRC)

Competitive salary

Vacancy reference HWB 340/12

Closing date 22 July 2013 at 12 noon

Professor Peter Taylor, one of the co-founders of the Sport Industry Research Centre (SIRC) is retiring in February 2014 after a highly distinguished career as a sports economist. Sheffield Hallam University is looking to replace Peter by appointing an internationally renowned academic to the post of Professor of Sport Management.

SIRC has a turnover of more than £1m per annum and a full time staff of 19, making it one of the UK's largest contract research and consultancy teams in its field. Currently the vast majority of the Centre's income is secured externally in open competition. Consequently, you should have a proven track record in sourcing large scale research and consultancy contracts. You will also be able to demonstrate that these contracts have been delivered consistently to clients' expectations, on time, and within budget. In addition to commercial acumen, you will be required to produce high quality research outputs that contribute to enhancing our funding from the Research Excellence Framework.

The SIRC team is close knit and sharply focused on the achievement of business and wider research goals. We are looking for someone who is effective at both delivery and enabling and who will contribute positively to the leadership and development of the Centre. You must be able to make a rounded contribution to: meeting business objectives; delivering research outputs; research student supervision; maintaining our profile; and, engaging fully with the operational and strategic governance of the Centre.

Professor Taylor leaves SIRC in an outstanding position. It is perfectly set up for someone – either experienced or a rising star – to step in and drive the Centre forward for a new generation. They are huge boots to fill, but if you have the skills, ambition and talent, we will give you all the support you need to succeed.

If you're inspired to join us, find out more or apply at www.shu.ac.uk/jobs

join us

School of Engineering and Informatics
Department of Informatics

2 x Lecturer or Senior Lecturer/ Reader in Neural Computation or Machine Learning/ Statistical Natural Language Processing

Ref: 182 and 183

Please note that the University will be appointing one post in each discipline.
(Full time, permanent)

Senior Lecturer/Reader: £45,941 - £53,233 per annum

Lecturer: £37,382 - £44,607 per annum

Expected start date: 1 October 2013

The School of Engineering and Informatics is investing for the future; a key element of that investment is in innovative people. We are in the process of advertising 15 posts in areas of strategic importance to the School. One such area is neural computation, machine learning, and their applications. We wish to make two appointments in this area: one at Lecturer level and the other at Senior Lecturer/Reader level.

Position 1 is in neural computation. Applicants for this position should have a strong research record in some aspect of neural computation, including: computational neuroscience; neuroinformatics; neuro-centric biorobotics; and applications of neural computation in biology, cognitive science, or image processing.

Position 2 is in machine learning. Applicants for this position should have a strong research record in machine learning, with an interest in applying their research to problems in fields such as natural language processing, data mining and social media analysis.

The successful applicants will join the Evolutionary and Adaptive Systems Research Group or the Cognitive and Language Processing Systems Research Group, but will be expected to contribute to other related research activities in the School.

Applications should be accompanied by a full CV and statements of future research plans, and where applicants could contribute to teaching.

When applying candidates must state which level they are applying for AND state Ref 182 for posts in Neural Computation and Ref 183 if applying for Machine Learning/ Statistical Natural Language Processing.

Informal enquiries may be addressed either to Professor J Carroll, Head of Department, Informatics, J.A.Carroll@sussex.ac.uk; or Professor D J Mynors, Head of School, D.J.Mynors@sussex.ac.uk

Closing date for applications: 11 July 2013

For full details and how to apply see www.sussex.ac.uk/jobs

University of Sussex

The University of Sussex is committed to equality of opportunity

650,000
unique online visitors
a month*.

Bespoke print and online packages
available to suit your
recruitment needs.

* Adobe SiteCatalyst (Omniure), Sep 2011 - May 2012, avg. excluding WUR spikes

Call 020 3194 3399
Email recruitment@timeshighereducation.co.uk

In print, online, on the move.

Wide range of advertising opportunities available.

Call 020 3194 3399

Email recruitment@timeshighereducation.co.uk

INSPIRING LEARNING BEYOND LECTURING

Lecturers and Senior Lecturers – Maritime and Technology Faculty

Media Technology • Computing • Electronic Engineering • Environmental Science • Engineering
• Architectural and Construction Technology • Civil Engineering and Construction Technology

More than a lecturer: you are a thinker and innovator.

Your ideas, energy and enthusiasm will be crucial to the success of this diverse and evolving Faculty.

Working alongside our new Dean, you will help to shape and deliver learning that is fit for the future.

You are likely to have recently completed a relevant PhD or other higher degree and be ready to apply your creativity and skills in an inclusive and flexible educational setting. If you are as forward thinking as we are, please visit www.solent.ac.uk/vacancies to register with Jobs@Solent and apply.

We are an Equal Opportunities Employer

Focused on academic excellence and higher level skills, you will nurture broad opportunities for partnership within a team that aligns research with knowledge transfer, and learning with employability.

We want to create a critical mass of knowledge and expertise in our team – and you will be part of it.

www.solent.ac.uk

Coventry School of Art and Design Senior Lecturer Interior Design

Salary: £35,247 - £50,187 per annum

Ref No: REQ002018

Coventry University is looking for a Senior Lecturer to join the academic team on the Interior Design course, located within the Department of Industrial Design in Coventry School of Art and Design. Coventry University Industrial Design is famous for its Automotive and Transport and Product Design courses, from which graduates have progressed to occupy leading positions in design studios all over the world for 40 years. The BA/MDes Interior Design course begun successfully in 2012/13 with a first cohort of students, now with the entry of a second cohort in September, we are seeking to employ a further full-time Senior Lecturer.

The post requires a professional, with experience of teaching, education and research, with knowledge of higher education processes, provision of learning through lectures, module leadership and assessment of work at BA (Hons) and preferably MA level. Knowledge of the current trends and practices in the Interior Design business is essential and experience as a practicing Interior Designer is desirable. A wish to contribute to the futures of students by preparing them for successful careers in the Interior Design industry is essential, as the achievement and satisfaction of our students is our top priority.

You will possess strong skills in communication and creativity to be able to teach and assess drawing, ideation and design activities appropriate to the subject. Knowledge of appropriate professional software, desirably Vector Works, and potentially Cinema 4d, Rhino-V-ray, Photoshop, Illustrator and In-design, as well as skills in design model making and workshop practices are also expected.

For more information or to apply online visit www.coventry.ac.uk/job-vacancies
Closing Date: 3rd July 2013

US

University of Sussex

School of Engineering and Informatics
Department of Informatics

2 x Lecturer or Senior Lecturer/
Reader in Neural Computation or Machine Learning /
Statistical Natural Language Processing

Ref: 182 and 183

Closing date for applications: 11 July 2013

For further details please see our full advert in the Professors/Readers/
Principal/Senior Lecturers section.

The University of Sussex is committed to equality of opportunity

THE
Times Higher Education

Over 64%
of THE website visitors are from outside the UK*.

Reach a global audience of higher education professionals.

Call 020 3194 3399
Email recruitment@timeshighereducation.co.uk

* Author SiteCatalyst (Omniture), Sep 2011 - May 2012, avg. excluding WAP spins

join us

School of Business, Management & Economics
Department of Business & Management

Faculty Positions

Ref: 152

Permanent Full-Time

Senior Lecturer/Reader: Starting at £45,941 and rising to £53,233 per annum at entry

Lecturer: Starting at £33,230 and rising to £44,607 per annum at entry

Expected start dates flexible

The University of Sussex is looking to hire additional faculty positions as part of a further phase of expansion in the Department of Business & Management, which is a key component of the School of Business, Management & Economics. The Department is engaged in researching and teaching the full range of business disciplines, working closely with the other departments in the School, namely Economics, with its strong reputation for development economics and international trade; and SPRU, the internationally recognised centre for policy related research and work on climate change and innovation.

We are recruiting full-time faculty at the level of Reader, Senior Lecturer and Lecturer in the areas of Management, Marketing, Accounting, Banking, Finance and Strategy; and at Reader/Senior Lectureship level in International Business; and at Lecturer level in Organisational Behaviour.

All successful candidates will be entrepreneurial academics who enjoy working in a dynamic, multidisciplinary, growth-oriented environment and show enthusiasm for collaborating with colleagues. Applicants for appointments at Reader levels will be internationally recognised research leaders and have a strong track record in teaching, administration, and raising research funds. Candidates for Senior Lectureships will have developed a substantial publication record and teaching portfolio as well as having demonstrated the ability to raise research funds and/or take on administrative roles. Applicants for Lectureships will have some teaching experience and have demonstrated their potential as researchers through first publications.

Informal enquiries may be made with the Head of School, Professor Ian Davidson (email: hos@bmec.sussex.ac.uk, tel: 01273 87 2708), or the Head of the Department of Business & Management, Professor Carol Alexander (email: c.alexander@sussex.ac.uk, tel: 01273 87 3950). Applicants might also wish to contact the respective subject heads, whose contact details can be found online.

Closing date for applications: 29 August 2013

For full details and how to apply see www.sussex.ac.uk/jobs

University of Sussex

The University of Sussex is committed to equality of opportunity

www.reading.ac.uk/jobs

Lecturer in Construction Materials

School of Construction Management and Engineering

Grade 7: £37,382 - £45,941 per annum

We are seeking to appoint an enthusiastic Lecturer to enhance teaching capability in the area of construction materials, with a particular emphasis on laboratory-based experiments. This appointment is aimed at supporting our undergraduate programmes in surveying and construction management.

You will have a background in materials science, excellent presentation and oral communication skills, specialist knowledge of construction materials together with a broad understanding of construction-related education and a commitment to innovative approaches to teaching and learning.

Closing date: 7 July 2013. Interview date: 10 September 2013.

To apply please visit www.reading.ac.uk/jobs or call +44(0)118 378 6771

Please quote the reference number LE13021.

We value a diverse workforce and welcome applications from all sections of the community.

THE QUEEN'S
ANNIVERSARY PRIZES
2009 & 2011

The University of Edinburgh

The University of Edinburgh is an exciting, vibrant, research led academic community offering opportunities to work with leading international academics whose visions are shaping tomorrow's world.

College of Humanities and Social Science

Office of Lifelong Learning

Head of English for Academic Purposes

£37,382 - £44,607

The Office of Lifelong Learning is seeking to appoint a Head of English for Academic Purposes to be based within the English Language Teaching Centre. We are seeking a high quality candidate to oversee the management of the English for Academic Purposes (EAP) section including line management of EAP colleagues. You will have direct responsibility for the provision of ELTC in-session support services throughout the University.

This post is full time and open ended.

Ref 014962. Closing date 8 July 2013.

Moray House School of Education

Sport, Physical Education &
Health Sciences

Lecturer in Strength & Conditioning with Physical Education

£37,382 - £44,607

You will have academic experience at post-doctoral level including established contributions to research and research-informed teaching, in a relevant subject area. You will take responsibility for developing, teaching and leading programmes and courses and will contribute to the wider work of the subject area and the School.

You will enhance the existing team by developing research-led teaching, undertaking research in an area related to human performance science and physical education and by supervising research students. You will make a significant contribution to the research profile of the group by securing research grants and by publishing and disseminating high quality research outputs, and will contribute to the knowledge exchange and impact profile of the School by engaging in CPD and events for external audiences.

Ref: 014887. Closing date: 9 July 2013.

School of Law

Teaching Fellow in Intellectual Property Law

£30,424 - £36,298

Candidates should have completed or be very close to completing a PhD or have equivalent research experience. You must demonstrate a strong commitment to and relevant experience of undergraduate and postgraduate teaching. You will contribute to teaching in intellectual property law at postgraduate and undergraduate levels, both on-campus and online. Previous experience of design and delivery of teaching and assessment at postgraduate level is strongly preferred, as is experience with on-line course delivery. A willingness and ability to teach a broad range of intellectual property law topics is essential.

Teaching needs exist in particular in the areas of international intellectual property law and the enforcement and management of IP. There is an expectation that the candidate will teach and assess on-campus and distance learning courses in International Intellectual Property Systems www.law.ed.ac.uk/courses/viewcourse.aspx?ref=353 and develop an on-campus version of our existing successful online course in Managing Intellectual Property

www.law.ed.ac.uk/ahrc/teaching/llm/information/moduleinformation/modulefour/index.aspx

The person appointed will also have the opportunity to develop specialist teaching in an area informed by their own research interests and expertise.

The position is available from August 2013. Appointment will be on a full time fixed-term basis for twelve months.

Ref: 015044. Closing date: 11 July 2013.

Apply online, view further details or browse more jobs at our website.

Committed to Equality and Diversity

The University of Edinburgh is a charitable body, registered in Scotland, with registration number SC005336.

www.ed.ac.uk/jobs

CENTRAL SCHOOL OF SPEECH & DRAMA

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

The Royal Central School of Speech & Drama, University of London is an international centre of excellence based in London serving its professions by providing higher education in, and training for, the dramatic arts and the performance and media industries.

LECTURER, THEATRE PRODUCTION PRACTICES

Salary Range, Grade 6: £33,916 - £37,605 per annum, including London Weighting

Royal Central is the University of London's specialist college of the performing arts, training students to high professional standards through practical production work on stages that range from our proscenium arch main house, to studios and site-specific locations. Working mainly on our undergraduate BA Theatre Practice programme, and with scope for some postgraduate teaching, this post will enhance and reinforce Royal Central's international reputation for training leading theatre production specialists.

The successful candidate will have significant experience in theatre production, for example as Chief Electrician or Head of Stage in a producing house, or in premiering medium-to-large scale touring productions. They will also have experience of vocational training and be able to demonstrate a commitment to developing their career and the study of theatre production, as a teacher and expert, within higher education.

The post holder will work with students from all of the 12 strands of the BA Theatre Practice course, developing and delivering practical and concept based teaching, mentoring individuals and teams through theoretical and practical projects (including supporting the teams working on the School's public production programme) and setting and marking assessed work.

The School encourages its lecturers to remain up-to-date in their specialist area(s) and current developments in theatre and live performance. You will be encouraged to develop your profile as an acknowledged authority in your field either through practical research or within relevant external networks, and there may be opportunities to lead or take part in external production projects – as part of the curriculum or independently of it.

For further information and application details, please visit www.cssd.ac.uk/jobs

Closing date for receipt of application forms is 26 July 2013 at 9am. Interviews will be held on 7 August 2013.

The Royal Central School of Speech & Drama is dedicated to Equal Opportunities in employment and seeks to achieve diversity amongst its staff to reflect the community it serves.

join us

School of Engineering and Informatics
Department of Engineering and Design

Lecturer Mechanical Engineering: IC Engines

Ref: 176

(Permanent, full time)

Lecturer: starting at £37,382 and rising to £44,607 per annum

Expected start date: 1 October 2013

The School has recently appointed new staff within the Department of Engineering and Design and wishes to strengthen further the internal combustion engine research activity.

Hence, we wish to appoint a Lecturer in the field of IC Engines. It is anticipated that applicants would have research expertise in vehicle propulsion systems with a significant interest in vehicle energy management. The successful applicant will join a team utilising a range of facilities including two engine test cells; an engine test-laboratory; a full range of emissions measurement equipment; calibration equipment for engine control; and laser-based vibration measurement hardware.

The School's undergraduate students participate in the IMechE Formula Student competition and it is expected that those appointed will be involved significantly in this project.

Applications should be accompanied by a full CV and statements of future research plans, and where applicants could contribute to teaching.

Informal enquiries may be addressed either to Dr J Dunne, Head of the Dynamics, Control, and Vehicle Research Group, J.F.Dunne@sussex.ac.uk; or Professor D J Mynors, Head of School, D.J.Mynors@sussex.ac.uk

Department of Informatics

Lecturer in Computer Science

Ref: 181

(Permanent, full time)

Lecturer: £37,382 - £44,607 per annum

Expected start date: 1 October 2013

The School of Engineering and Informatics is investing for the future in recruiting 15 new posts across areas of strategic importance to the school. One area is within the Foundations of Software Systems group, where we are seeking to appoint a Lecturer in Computer Science.

The Foundation of Software Systems Group studies the theory and practice of future computation and communication, undertaking internationally ranked research ranging from the logical foundations of programming languages through to the deployment of large scale ad hoc networks. We are inviting applications from candidates with research interests in computing systems, computer networks, programming language design, or related areas. The appointee will be expected to teach across core areas of computer science, such as computer networks, operating systems and software engineering.

Applications should be accompanied by a full CV, and statements of future research plans and ways in which applicants could contribute to teaching across the School.

Informal enquiries may be addressed either to Dr I Wakeman, Head of the Foundation of Software Systems Group, ianw@sussex.ac.uk; or Professor D J Mynors, Head of School, D.J.Mynors@sussex.ac.uk

Closing date for applications: 11 July 2013

For full details and how to apply see www.sussex.ac.uk/jobs

US
University of Sussex

The University of Sussex is committed to equality of opportunity

Athena
SWAN
Bronze Award

650,000 unique online visitors a month*.

Bespoke print and online packages available to suit your recruitment needs.

Call 020 3194 3399
Email recruitment@timeshighereducation.co.uk

Lecturer in English Literature

- Vacancy ref: FA0014

Lecturer in Creative Writing (fixed term) - Vacancy ref: FA0015

Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences

The English Department is highly research active and delivers a substantial range of programmes at undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Here, your role will be one of scope, as you enjoy the opportunity to support a diverse offering of programmes and research activities in your specialist field. In addition to the Philip Larkin Centre for Poetry and Creative Writing, our University is also well served by the Brynmor Jones Library and the newly launched History Centre, housing the University of Hull's archive as well as those of the City.

Contributing to a successful team, you should be able to demonstrate the ability to publish high quality research, inspire both students and colleagues in a higher education environment, develop modules and work as well independently as with a team.

Salary range: Band 7

You can learn more about this position and apply online at www.hull.ac.uk/jobs

To discuss this role informally, please contact Professor Katharine Cockin on 01482 465611 or at k.m.cockin@hull.ac.uk

For information about the department, please visit www2.hull.ac.uk/fass/english.aspx

Closing date: 8th July 2013

Durham
University

Shaped by the past, creating the future

COMPUTING INFORMATION SERVICES (CIS)

As part of a wider University change programme, the current Information Technology function of Durham University is embarking on a multi-million pound transformation programme.

CIS at Durham University invites applications for the following full-time, permanent positions:

IT BUSINESS PARTNER FOR EDUCATION

Ref. 2606

ACADEMIC IT LEAD

(SOCIAL SCIENCES AND HEALTH AND QUEEN'S CAMPUS)

Ref. 2608

ACADEMIC IT LEAD

(ARTS AND HUMANITIES AND COLLEGES)

Ref. 2610

APPLICATION ARCHITECT

Ref. 2605

To reflect these exciting opportunities, the salary for each position will be made up by a core grade plus supplement.

Closing date: 6 July 2013.

For more information regarding these positions, please contact e.recruitment@durham.ac.uk / +44(0)191 3346498.

For further information on these positions in CIS and other exciting new opportunities in the team, please visit <http://www.dur.ac.uk/cis/nwp/recruitment>.

Durham
University

Shaped by the past, creating the future

ACADEMIC OFFICE

RESEARCHER DEVELOPMENT OFFICER

£30,424 - £36,298 per annum

The role involves planning, publicising, where appropriate delivering, and evaluating the University's award-winning professional development programmes for early career researchers (postgraduate research students and postdoctoral researchers). The post holder will be part of a team in the Centre for Academic and Researcher Development which will provide administrative support.

Closing Date: 30th June 2013

Ref: 2633

Further details of the post are available on our website (<http://www.dur.ac.uk/jobs/>)

SWINBURNE

SWINBURNE
UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

Faculty of Design

Swinburne University of Technology aims to be Australia's leading university in science, technology and innovation by 2020. It has been placed in the world's top 400 universities in the prestigious Academic Ranking of World Universities and one of the top 100 universities in physics for the last six years. Swinburne has campuses in metropolitan Melbourne, Australia and an overseas branch campus in Kuching, Sarawak.

Lecturer/Senior Lecturer – Industrial Design

Position number: 22272

Academic level B or C: $79,230 – $111,708 AUD

Plus 17% superannuation

Full-time, ongoing position

Location: Melbourne, Australia

Applications close:

5pm Melbourne/AEST 9 July 2013

Apply online
swinburne.edu.au/jobs

Swinburne values diversity in its work environment and has been recognised as an Employer of Choice for Women since 2007. Swinburne encourages applications from Indigenous Australians; women; mature age workers; people with disabilities; people who identify as LGBTI; and those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds.

CRICOS Provider: 00111D