UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE

www.jobs.cam.ac.uk

Pro-Vice-Chancellor for Strategy and Planning

Reference: AE14780

The University of Cambridge is one of the world's leading universities, with an outstanding reputation for academic excellence and achievement. Its success is built on a long history of research and teaching at the highest level within its distinctive collegiate structure.

The University wishes to appoint a Pro-Vice-Chancellor for Strategy and Planning. With the recent appointment of a CFO who has responsibility for financial planning and sustainability, the University is seeking a senior academic leader whose primary responsibility is to promote and develop the academic strength of the University now and into the future. This is to ensure that there is a strong academic voice at the centre of the University's financial planning and budgeting.

The successful candidate will have a record of high achievement as a leader of an academic community (for example a department or faculty or research institute), significant both in size and international standing, and experience in complex resource allocations. The individual will have a proven ability to develop and implement academic strategies in an environment where authority is derived from influence and persuasion, together with a deep understanding of the collegiate University and how to work effectively within it. The successful candidate will have an outstanding record of personal academic achievement and will have strong experience working collaboratively with administrative colleagues.

The Pro-Vice-Chancellorship will be tenable for a period of up to three years in the first instance from 1 August 2018. The position is open to external and internal candidates, although preference will be given to individuals with a strong connection to the collegiate University. The Pro-Vice-Chancellor will be appointed at no less than 80% FTE.

We particularly welcome applications from members of groups that are under-represented at this level in the University.

Expressions of interest, including a curriculum vitae and covering letter, and nominations, should be sent to the Vice-Chancellor, University Offices, The Old Schools, Cambridge CB2 1TN, VCO.Enquiries@admin.cam.ac.uk, by 9 March 2018. Further information may be obtained from the Vice-Chancellor's Office (VCO.Enquiries@admin.cam.ac.uk).

Please quote reference AE14780 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

Closing date: 09 March 2018

The University values diversity and is committed to equality of opportunity.
The University has a responsibility to ensure that all employees are eligible to live and work in the UK.

THE QUEEN'S COLLEGE, OXFORD

ELECTION OF PROVOST

The Governing Body of The Queen's College, Oxford, seeks to elect a new Provost with effect from 1 October 2019. The Provost will offer inspiring and engaging leadership to this outstanding academic community, and will represent the College both within Oxford University and the public domain.

Ideal candidates will be women or men of academic or professional distinction who have a strong commitment to – and enthusiasm for – teaching, research, and the values of academic excellence. They will have a considerable reputation for achievement in their chosen field, and a wide range of interests that will allow them to speak to diverse groups of people.

Information about The Queen's College, and further particulars about the appointment and the application procedure, can be found on the College's website <https://www.queens.ox.ac.uk/provost>, or obtained from Dr Curly Moloney at Moloney Search (tqc@moloneysearch.com), the College's advisors in this process.

Applications should be sent electronically to Provostship2019@queens.ox.ac.uk, and should include: a) A curriculum vitae, b) A concise statement explaining the candidate's reasons for applying, and how the candidate believes he or she matches the qualities that the College requires.

The closing date for applications is 16th March 2018.

The Queen's College is committed to diversity and equality and is an equal opportunities employer.

To commence as soon as possible, on a four-year fixed-term basis, with the possibility of renewal upon mutual agreement. For the tenure-track post, application for tenure will normally be considered before the expiry of the second four-year fixed-term contract.

The HKU Faculty of Dentistry is the only dental school in Hong Kong and is the only one in Greater China that uses English as the medium of instruction. The Faculty offers both undergraduate and postgraduate dental education which is internationally renowned. The Faculty's strategic research themes are biomedical and tissue engineering, infection and immunity, and public health and healthy ageing. The high quality of the Faculty's teaching and learning, clinical service and research excellence has won global recognition of its achievements, as evidenced by the World Number One Ranking of the Faculty of Dentistry by the QS World University Ranking by Subject in the years 2016 and 2017. The Faculty also plays an important role in public and professional education, through its knowledge exchange activities as well as in dental and oral health research and promotion, in international, local and regional communities.

For appointment as Clinical Associate Professor in Orthodontics, applicants should possess a dental Bachelor's degree or equivalent, clinical specialist in Orthodontics or equivalent status, and a Ph.D. degree or equivalent. They should also have: (i) proven ability for quality research, publications in international journals, and evidence of local and regional recognition for scholarship and professional expertise; (ii) demonstrated ability in undergraduate and postgraduate education, clinical practice and research; (iii) demonstrated participation in Faculty and University affairs; and (iv) demonstrated ability in knowledge exchange activities, and leadership in professional education programmes or community engagement. For appointment as Clinical Assistant Professor in Orthodontics, applicants should possess a dental Bachelor's degree or equivalent, and a Master of Dental Surgery degree or equivalent. They should also have (i) ability in undergraduate and postgraduate clinical teaching and practice; (ii) potential for and interest in research; and (iii) ability and willingness to participate in Faculty affairs and in knowledge exchange activities.

For appointment as Clinical Associate Professor of Orthodontic Practice/Clinical Assistant Professor of Orthodontic Practice, applicants should possess a dental or medical Bachelor's degree or equivalent, clinical specialist status in Orthodontics recognized by the College of Dental Surgeons of Hong Kong or its equivalent in overseas jurisdictions, and at least 7 years' experience for Clinical Associate Professor in the relevant specialty after gaining clinical specialist status, and at least 6 years of post-BDS degree (or equivalent) dental practitioner experience for Clinical Assistant Professor. Applicants for Clinical Associate Professor should also have: (i) proven ability of scholarship in undergraduate and postgraduate clinical teaching and practice; and (ii) evidence of local or regional recognition of clinical excellence. Applicants for Clinical Assistant Professor should also have: (i) evidence of contributions to undergraduate and postgraduate clinical teaching and practice; and (ii) evidence of local or regional recognition of clinical competence.

Clinical professoriate staff are expected to undertake a comprehensive portfolio of clinical teaching, research, knowledge exchange and administration, while clinical practice professoriate staff who may be local or overseas dentists in private practice or academic settings will focus mostly on teaching and teaching development, and clinical service. Information about the Faculty can be obtained at <http://facdent.hku.hk/>. For general queries about the post, please contact Professor T.F. Flemmig, Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry at flemmig@hku.hk. For further information about the duties of the post, please contact Dr. Y. Yang at yangyanq@hku.hk. Applicants should send a completed application form, together with an up-to-date C.V. to the Faculty at dentalhr@hku.hk. Closes April 30, 2018.

Department of Civil Engineering

3. Associate Professor/Assistant Professor in Geotechnical Engineering (3 posts) (Ref.: 201701619)

To commence on July 1, 2018 or as soon as possible thereafter, on a three-year fixed-term basis, with consideration for tenure before the expiry of a second three-year fixed-term contract. Tenure consideration at an earlier timeline is possible.

The Department of Civil Engineering is one of the five engineering departments in the Faculty of Engineering. The Department has a world-class reputation for leading research and teaching in civil engineering, and nurtured high-calibre leaders for the community as well as the civil engineering profession. The Department was ranked 9th in the world under the QS University Subject Rankings 2017 in the subject area of civil and structural engineering. The Department is active in research in construction management and transportation engineering, geotechnical engineering, structural engineering, and water and environmental engineering. Information about the Department can be obtained at <http://www.civil.hku.hk/>.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. degree in Civil Engineering or a related field, with relevant experience in teaching and research. A strong background in geotechnical engineering is required and experience in the following areas would be desirable: smart systems and smart infrastructure, geo-informatics, tunnelling and underground space, sensors and robotics, environmental geotechnics, geomechanics for energy production and storage, coastal and offshore geotechnics, and emerging geomaterials for sustainability and resilience. The appointees will be expected to teach undergraduate and postgraduate courses and supervise research students and projects. Applicants should send a completed application form, together with an up-to-date C.V., a research plan and a statement on teaching philosophy to the Department at civdept@hku.hk. Review of applications will start from February 1, 2018 and continue until March 31, 2018.

Department of Medicine

4. Tenure-Track Clinical Associate Professor/Clinical Assistant Professor in Endocrinology/Diabetes/Metabolism (Ref.: 201800014)

To commence as soon as possible, on a four-year fixed-term basis, with the possibility of renewal and with consideration for tenure before the expiry of a second four-year fixed-term contract.

Applicants should possess a medical qualification registrable in Hong Kong, the M.R.C.P. (U.K.) or equivalent, and the relevant higher academic and professional qualifications (e.g. M.D., Ph.D., F.R.C.P.). Ability to speak Cantonese is preferred as direct communication with patients is required in clinical service, although teaching, research and professional work is conducted in English. Applicants should also have extensive experience and expertise in managing patients with disorders in endocrinology/diabetes/metabolism in addition to general medical patients, a distinguished record of research in endocrinology/diabetes/metabolism, substantial achievements in research publications and an excellent track record of successful grant applications. Applicants at the level of Clinical Associate Professor should have an established international reputation in the field, demonstrated outstanding accomplishments in teaching and curriculum development at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels, and demonstrated administrative leadership and team building capacity at an appropriate level within a university setting. Applicants at the level of Clinical Assistant Professor should have demonstrated accomplishment in teaching of medical undergraduates. The appointee is expected to make leading contributions to organize and develop undergraduate and postgraduate programmes, conduct research, and provide clinical service and patient care at the University's affiliate teaching hospitals. Information about the Department can be obtained at <http://www.hku.hk/medicine/>. Applicants should submit a completed application form together with an up-to-date C.V. to the Department at medhr@hku.hk. Review of applications will start on January 22, 2018 and continue until March 31, 2018.

Li Ka Shing Faculty of Medicine

5. Tenure-Track Non-Clinical Assistant Professor in the field of MRI physics jointly under the Li Ka Shing Faculty of Medicine (Department of Diagnostic Radiology), the Faculty of Social Sciences (Department of Psychology) and the Faculty of Engineering (Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering).

The appointee's tenure home will be the Li Ka Shing Faculty of Medicine. The appointment is to commence on May 1, 2018 or as soon as possible thereafter, on a three-year fixed-term basis, with the possibility of renewal and with consideration for tenure before the expiry of a second three-year fixed-term contract.

The aim of the joint position is to foster interdisciplinary research across the Faculties of Social Sciences, Engineering and Medicine. The appointee will also spearhead the development of MRI research and deliver undergraduate teaching in MRI physics in the School of Biomedical Sciences, Li Ka Shing Faculty of Medicine. MRI research and MRI physics will be incorporated into an undergraduate teaching component in both the Biomedical Engineering program in the Faculty of Engineering and the Neuroscience program in the Faculty of Social Sciences. As part of the cross-faculty initiative, the appointee will (i) work with colleagues in the areas of MRI methods/sequence development; (ii) provide leadership in MRI research and organize core support services for image analysis to external users; (iii) teach undergraduate and postgraduate programmes in MRI physics; (iv) supervise student projects and theses; and (v) take up administrative duties as required.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. degree in Biomedical Engineering or related areas with excellent credential. They should have demonstrated strong teaching and research experience in the relevant area, and have a strong commitment to Knowledge Exchange. Applicants should send a completed application form, together with an up-to-date C.V., a research statement and a teaching statement to the Department at diaradio@hku.hk. Review of applications will start on March 15, 2018 and continue until April 15, 2018, or until the post is filled, whichever is earlier.

Department of Psychology

6. Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Clinical Psychology (Ref.: 201701654)

To commence on September 1, 2018 or as soon as possible thereafter, on a three-year fixed-term basis, with the possibility of renewal and consideration for tenure before the expiry of a second three-year fixed-term contract.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. degree in Clinical Psychology, and a good record of research and teaching, or sound indicators of promise as a teacher in clinical psychology. Clinical experiences that can inform their teaching will be an asset. The appointee is expected to maintain an active research programme, and be responsible for teaching courses at both postgraduate and undergraduate levels, and supervising research students. Enquiries about the post can be sent to the Chair of Selection Committee (hrpsyc@hku.hk). Information about the Department can be obtained at <http://www.hku.hk/psychology>. Applicants should send a completed application form together with an up-to-date C.V., a research statement and a teaching statement to the Department at hrpsyc@hku.hk. Review of applications will commence on February 10, 2018 and continue until May 31, 2018, or until the post is filled, whichever is the earlier.

A globally competitive remuneration package commensurate with the appointee's qualifications and experience will be offered. At current rates, salaries tax does not exceed 15% of gross income. The appointment will attract a contract-end gratuity and University contribution to a retirement benefits scheme, totalling up to 15% of basic salary, as well as annual leave and medical benefits. Housing benefits will be provided as applicable. For post (4), a monthly cash allowance will be offered to the successful candidate.

Application forms (341/1111) can be downloaded at <http://www.hr.hku.hk/apptunit/form-ext.doc>. Further particulars can be obtained at <http://jobs.hku.hk/>. Please indicate clearly in the form and the subject of the e-mail the post applied for, as well as the field and level (if applicable), and the reference number.

The University thanks applicants for their interest, but advises that only candidates shortlisted for interviews will be notified of the application result.

The University is an equal opportunities employer and is committed to equality, ethics, inclusivity, diversity and transparency; and is committed to a Non-smoking Policy.
