Realise Your Ambition

De Montfort University Leicester (DMU) is a university with a global outlook and a relentless focus on delivering quality teaching and learning.

This focus has been recognised with a Gold award in the Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF) in 2017 and our diverse population, student exam success and graduate job prospects have seen DMU named University of the Year for Social Inclusion in The Sunday Times Good University Guide for 2019.

Leicester De Montfort Law School is based in the contemporary Hugh Aston Building and the Great Hall of our historic Leicester Castle offering undergraduate, postgraduate and professional legal education across a broad range of legal disciplines.

We have a thriving student population and a large Criminal Law and Criminal Justice research and teaching team. We focus on the field of private law, with a strong emphasis on global issues and sustainability, as part of our aim to change the mould of legal education and transform justice through knowledge.

We are looking for talented teachers with a strong interest in research areas in contract and commercial law, corporate law and private international law. We have opportunities for talented new researchers, gifted teachers and established academics who are looking to be part of a dynamic new team.

Applications to these posts are encouraged from all members of the community. For an informal discussion, please contact the head of De Montfort Law School, Professor Kevin Bampton, by email at kevin.bampton@dmu.ac.uk

Leicester Castle Business School (LCBS) is based in the contemporary Hugh Aston Building and the Great Hall of our historic Leicester Castle at the heart of DMU's campus. The school's mission is to go beyond business as usual, transforming the lives of our staff and students through outstanding education and research.

LCBS offers a range of undergraduate, postgraduate and corporate training programmes across a variety of disciplines and, as part of a continuing programme of investment in staff, LCBS is recruiting for a variety of positions.

This investment will help us realise our ambition to change business education and lead the way in defining a 21st century global business school.
