FOUNDATION YEAR

PRE-DEGREE STUDY PROGRAM

THE PROGRAM

PREPARE FOR YOUR ACADEMIC FUTURE

Get a taste of different fields of study and acquire academic learning skills before starting your undergraduate degree. Based on your individual academic background and goals you can design your own Foundation Year learning experience. The language of instruction is English.

— ORIENTATION

The program offers orientation options by choosing courses and modules from a variety of different academic program tracks. Career orientation workshops and academic advising ensure that you can make a deliberate decision about what major to choose at the end of the year.

— PREPARATION

As a Foundation Year student you can choose between a range of preparatory classes to improve your study skills, to boost your expertise in your discipline of choice or to fine-tune your academic English. German classes are offered for students interested in learning German.

— QUALIFICATION

In the course of the program, all students can take the SAT on campus (standardized university admission test). Intensive SAT training allows you to get ready for the test. If needed, you can also take an English-language proficiency test as part of the program.

— SPECIALIZATION

A subject specialization in one of the following fields is possible, based on academic background and individual goals: Economics & Management, Engineering & Computer Sciences, Natural Sciences & Life Sciences, Social Sciences and History.

TEACHING AND MENTORING

Foundation Year students enjoy small classroom sizes and individualized guidance, an excellent level of education and state-of-the-art facilities. They gain initial practical experience in the lab and attend regular undergraduate courses to obtain transferable ECTS credits.

— TRIANGULAR SUPERVISION ASSURES OPTIMAL CHANCES FOR SUCCESS:

- Courses are taught by a team of highly qualified instructors who are experienced in creating a dynamic and interactive academic learning environment for students from diverse backgrounds.
- Academic advisors guide each student through the program and support in making future plans.
- Senior students act as mentors to Foundation Year participants and share their own experiences in their respective fields of study.

All students who successfully complete the Foundation Year Program receive guaranteed admission to Jacobs University's undergraduate programs.
