Why are IFE programs innovative and unique?

- European Project Semester (EPS) under which students of various engineering and business programmes work in teams on multidisciplinary projects. These projects are carefully selected to match their specialities and capabilities as well as to develop their intercultural communication and teamwork skills.
- Problem Based Learning (PBL) /Design Thinking (DT) - a student-centred pedagogical method that allows students to gain competences in given academic fields through solving particular problems while working on a team project. Compared with a traditional educational model, PBL promotes a more independent and creative approach to learning.
