The University of Canberra acknowledges the Ngunnawal people, traditional custodians of the lands where our main campus is located.

We wish to acknowledge and respect their continuing culture and the contribution they make to the life of Canberra and the region. We also acknowledge all other First Nations Peoples on whose lands we gather.

WE ARE UC

ARE WE?

We are the university in, of, for and from Canberra — the nation's capital university.

Young and dynamic with a clear public purpose of serving the people and communities of Canberra and the surrounding regions.

UC is a university for the professions
— we focus on employment and mission-based research.

A decorative graphic in the bottom right corner consisting of several concentric, partial circular arcs. The arcs are drawn with thin white lines, and one arc is highlighted with a slightly thicker, light blue line. They are arranged in a way that suggests a larger circle or a stylized 'U' shape.

We are a tight-knit group of educators, researchers, professionals and students.

6 Progressive, innovative and caring in our thinking and actions. To make lives better, communities stronger and the future brighter.

WE DO?

The background is a solid dark blue-grey. It is decorated with several abstract geometric lines. In the top-left, a thick white line and a thinner teal line run diagonally upwards to the right. In the bottom-right, there are several intersecting lines, including a thick white line, a teal line, and a thin white line, along with a curved white line. The text is centered in the middle of the image.

We are defined not just by what we do but by where we do it and for whom.

Whether it's fostering innovation, meeting education and healthcare needs, finding solutions to environmental challenges, or equipping our future leaders with the skills for success. Our university is a reflection and embodiment of our unique city and the communities we serve.
