How did you decide to pursue university-level studies in photography?

My interest goes back to a blog that I started in high school. It was a springboard that got me thinking about how images exist and operate in our world.

What's been the value of adding a minor in Art History to your degree?

It's opened me up to this whole world of ideas and conversations I wouldn't have had access to otherwise.

VICTOR YUAN

Victoria, British Columbia
Cell and Molecular Biology

You've spent a lot of time learning about microalgae as a potential source of biofuel. Where does your motivation come from?

It feels like a puzzle. It's satisfying to think about how the gene is supposed to affect the cell — then test it and find out.

You're aiming for a career in synthetic biology research. How prepared do you feel?

Because I got to do research as an undergrad, I'm really comfortable with what I'm doing and I'm confident in my knowledge.

AMAZING SPACES

Concordia's facilities are as varied as the students who create, perform and do research here.

A TRULY NEXT-GENERATION LIBRARY

Group study rooms come equipped with screens, cameras, speakers and whiteboards.

MAKERSPACES

Bring your vision from inspiration to reality with equipment that will push the limits of your creativity and ingenuity, like a 3D printer, a welding torch, a lithography press. Our students are painters, sculptors, gamers, satellite builders, drone designers.

Flight simulators, hydraulics and machine-tool labs, chemistry labs, imaging labs, are only a few of the places where you'll learn the fundamentals and gain confidence in your abilities.

READING ROOMS

An awe-inspiring converted chapel is just one of the extraordinary study space on campus.

GALLERIES AND THEATRES

The university's exhibition and performance spaces offer unparalleled opportunities to reach a public audience.

CLUBS AND VOLUNTEERING

Some of the most memorable moments of your university years could be the time you spend working with others on activities and projects that are meaningful, educational or simply tonnes of fun.

Concordians are known for being welcoming and engaged.

BEDRA ATTABIBI

Montreal, Quebec
EElectrical Engineering with Co-op

You created a group called UAV Concordia. What was your goal?

UAV stands for unmanned aerial vehicle. I wanted to give students the chance to work on drone technology.

How would you describe the experience?

Everybody helps each other and there are so many opportunities to work together. You want to enjoy these four years of your life and that vibe is important.

A COMMUNITY ON CAMPUS

You'll find countless outlets for positive change.

Our students:

- run the non-profit health-food store le Frigo Vert
- put on a daily vegan lunch through the People's Potato
- encourage environmentally friendly practices through a multitude of initiatives backed by Sustainable Concordia
- promote social justice and youth empowerment in Gulu, Uganda

That's only some of what's going on at Concordia.

CHRISTINE LUSSIER

St-Rémi, Quebec and Nunavik's Salluit community
Anthropology

Why did Concordia make sense for you?

I was already aware of the Aboriginal Student Resource Centre, so I knew I would have support on campus. I'd heard that people are very welcoming and social and I've found that to be true.

How important has it been for you to connect with other Indigenous students on campus?

It helps me incredibly. I can just stop by for a snack, talk to people, use the resources there, and study there. I'm connected to a bunch of people now that I never would have met otherwise, because we're all in different programs.

You were new to rugby when you started at Concordia — and now you're playing for Canada. How did you find yourself joining the Stingers?

I chose Concordia for my academic program, and then I contacted the head coach to say that I'd like to play.

What's it been like to balance school with playing rugby at an international level?

Concordia offers a very supportive environment — the athletics staff are so helpful — and that has really helped to diminish the stress athletes and students face.

APPLYING FOR ADMISSION

PROGRAM CHOICES — WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW BEFORE YOU APPLY

- How do I choose the right program for me? Browse our programs, research career options for those programs and notice what captures your imagination. Visit concordia.ca/programs.
 - You can indicate up to three program choices, in order of priority. Your first choice should be your top choice, since we will evaluate your application in the order you specify. If you don't get accepted to your first choice, we'll automatically consider your next choice and so on.
 - Pick a new subject for each choice. Don't select the honours, specialization and major of the same subject (e.g. Psychology) for your three choices. If you don't meet the requirements for the honours, we'll automatically consider you for the specialization or the major in the same subject instead.
 - Admission requirements for some programs are exactly the same (for example, all John Molson School of Business degree programs and all Aerospace Engineering options). Don't waste a choice on a program that has the exact same requirements as a choice you already specified. Consider including a less-competitive program among your choices, to maximize your chances of admission to the university!
- Complete instructions are at concordia.ca/undergraduate.

APPLY!

1. HAVE YOUR THREE PROGRAM CHOICES READY.
2. CHECK YOUR PROGRAMS' ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS.
Look for specific math and/or science course requirements, a letter of intent, a portfolio, etc.
3. APPLY ONLINE at concordia.ca/apply.
4. INCLUDE YOUR SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS

- a. TRANSCRIPTS: Upload a copy now. We'll ask you for official copies later, if you're accepted.
- b. PROOF OF LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY, if applicable.

- c. PROOF OF CANADIAN CITIZENSHIP OR PERMANENT RESIDENCY, if applicable.
- d. PROGRAM-SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS, if applicable (i.e. letter of intent, portfolio, etc.) These additional documents may need to be submitted directly to the academic department. Check concordia.ca/ugrad-other-req.

You may upload documents to your file even after submitting your application.

DEFINITIONS

- Your academic program is the type of degree you'll be doing (Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Commerce, etc.).
- Your academic plan is the subject that you'll be studying (Biology, Finance, etc.).
- Elective courses, depending on your program, allow you to explore interests outside of your required courses.

ACADEMIC PLAN TYPES

- A major requires you to take enough courses so that you'll end up with a general overview of the field, but not so many that you won't still have extensive room for exploration outside the field.
- A specialization provides a more in-depth study of your field while leaving you room to take other courses.
- Honours is a highly concentrated program, ideal for students planning to continue on to graduate studies. Not every program has direct admission to honours. (In these cases, students will need to apply for admission to the honours program during their first year at Concordia.)
- An option refers to plans within engineering or computer science.
- A minor gives you a basic introduction to a field. You can add a minor to complement a major, specialization or honours, but you can't complete a minor by itself. Minors are optional. (Interested in a minor? Apply after you've started your studies.)

APPLICATION DEADLINES

We give priority to applicants who apply by official deadlines, but we do consider late applications if places are still available for the Fall term only.

	Fall-term deadline (September entry)	Winter-term deadline (January entry)*
International students	February 1	September 1
Canadians and permanent residents	March 1	November 1

*Not all programs are available for January entry. Visit concordia.ca/application-deadlines

We reserve the right to close admission to a program at any time after the official deadline without notice.

AMERICAN STUDENTS

Our financial aid officers consult with you and your family to determine your eligibility for funding from the United States Federal Student Aid program before approving your loan application and the amount you can borrow. Funding is based on the program rules and your financial need. See concordia.ca/usaid for more information on U.S. loans.

To qualify, you must:

- Be enrolled in a degree program on a full- or part-time basis
- Maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress as defined by the U.S. Department of Education

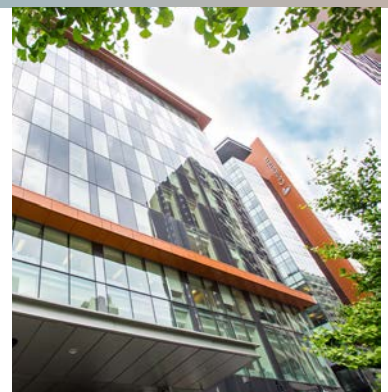

To apply for U.S. government financial aid, file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) available at fafsa.ed.gov. Concordia's federal school code is G08365.

Please note that the Student Aid program doesn't extend to online classes or Concordia's exchange programs abroad.
