

Contact Information

University of International Business and Economics
No. 10, Huixin Dongjie
Chaoyang District
Beijing, 100029
P.R.China
Fax: +86 (10) 64493860
Email: gjc@uibe.edu.cn
Website: www.uibe.edu.cn
Website for international students: www.uibe.cn

Campus Life

Scholarships and grants

UIBE supports students' development through the Student Affairs Office, the Career Development Center, the Work-Study Program Center, the Innovation and Entrepreneurship Center, and the Student Union. UIBE allocates over 25 million Chinese yuan annually through scholarship and grant funding for both Chinese and international students.

Green campus

UIBE is one of the first to practice green and low-carbon campus initiatives. Since 2004, UIBE has completed over 20 projects on energy saving and emission reductions, including water recycling, utilization of new energy such as geothermal energy and solar energy. UIBE was listed among the first group of demonstration units for conservation-oriented public institutions, and won the honorary titles of national "Advanced Unit of Energy Conservation" and "Beijing Energy Efficiency Leader" successively.

International campus and student activities

Located in the Chaoyang District of Beijing which is abundant with business development vitality and international influence, UIBE offers its students the opportunities to participate within international business and cross-cultural activities to develop cross-cultural awareness and global vision. UIBE has 75 student clubs open to both Chinese and international students that have held hundreds of multicultural activities and academic forums on campus, including the International Culture Festival, Ambassadors Forum, and Global Village Week. Each year, UIBE invites hundreds of leaders of government bodies and international organizations, senior scholars from leading universities or institutions, and CEOs of multinational corporations to give lectures or seminars.

H.E. Mr. Chen Baosheng, Minister, Ministry of Education, P. R. China

Professor Robert Carhart Merton, Nobel Prize Laureate

Mr. Stephen Perry, The China Reform and Friendship Laureate

Inaugural Ceremony of UIBE Academy of Open Economy

Graduates

UIBE is committed to cultivating educational excellence for the country and is recognized as the training base for highly qualified civil servants that work for the Ministry of Commerce, P.R. China. UIBE graduates are well-received owing to solid professional knowledge and technical abilities, proficient English, active thinking, and strong practical ability. Every year, more than one third of graduating students are accepted and enrolled in graduate and doctoral programs by famous overseas universities. The ratio of students accepted for further study overseas is among the highest in the country. Graduates of UIBE can be found at every corner of the world in fields such as international trade, finance, accounting, education and research as well as China's State organizations and commercial agencies. UIBE graduates play an important role in the economic and social development of China and in the exchange and development of the economy, trade and other undertakings among countries.

Notable alumni

- Zdzislaw Goralczyk, former Polish Ambassador to China
- Shi Guangsheng, former Minister of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation, P.R. China
- Zhou Wenzhong, former Chinese Ambassador to the United States
- Gao Xiqing, former President of China Investment Corporation (CIC)
- Lin Jianhai, Secretary of International Monetary Fund (IMF)
- Kevin Lin, the lead British government interpreter for conversations in Mandarin and English, and winner of the Order of the British Empire (OBE)
- Gong Zheng, Governor of Shandong Province
- Wang Shouwen, Vice Minister of Commerce, P.R. China and Deputy China International Trade Representative

University of International Business and Economics

UIBE
WWW.UIBE.EDU.CN

Overview

The University of International Business and Economics (UIBE), founded in 1951, is a national key university with expertise in disciplines such as economics, management science, science of law, and literature. UIBE is one of the "Project 211" universities, a governmental program that aims to transform select Chinese universities into high-quality 21st century academic institutions. In addition, UIBE participates in the "Double First-Class" Initiative, a governmental program which aims to ultimately build a number of world-class universities with state-of-the-art disciplines by the end of 2050. Since its inception, UIBE has been steadfast in living up to its motto of "Erudition, Honesty, Endeavor and Perfection" through continual diligence and innovation. Overall, UIBE sustains its educational commitment to "cultivate high-end innovative talents with an international vision, a good knowledge of international rules, and leadership in global economic and trade activities".

Currently, UIBE has 18 academic schools, 10 research institutes, one graduate school, and one department of physical education. The university offers over 1835 undergraduate courses, 1193 postgraduate courses, and 264 doctoral courses. UIBE participates in two national key disciplines, seven Beijing municipal key disciplines, one key research institute of humanities and social science, one center for strategic studies of the Ministry of Education, and one overseas expertise introduction center for discipline innovation (111 Center).

UIBE attaches great importance in cooperation with universities around the world. Currently, UIBE has established partnerships with at least 300 overseas universities and international organizations. Furthermore, UIBE has 3435 international students from over 160 countries that account for 20% of the university's total number of students. Similar ratios of international students is found in top tier Chinese universities.

Landmarks

1951 The predecessor of UIBE's Senior Business School for Business Leaders was founded under the leadership of the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Cooperation in P.R. China.

1954 The first international students were enrolled.

1960 Designation as a national key university for the university's outstanding academic programs.

1984 Renamed the University of International Business and Economics.

1989 The first university in China to have a Board of Trustees with Li Lanqing as the first Chairman, Rong Yiren, Huo Yingdong et al. as Honorary Chairmen and Wu Yi as the second Chairman.

1997 Added into the list of "Project 211" universities, a governmental program that aims to transform approximately 100 Chinese universities into high-quality 21st century academic institutions.

2000 Merged with the China Institute of Finance and Banking and became one of the universities under the direct leadership of the Ministry of Education.

2010 Announced the establishment of the university's education foundation to raise funds and accept donations that support education-related initiatives and public benefit activities.

2010 The Ministry of Commerce of P.R. China and the Ministry of Education P.R. China signed an agreement to jointly support UIBE.

2017 Added to the list of universities involved in the "Double First-Class" Initiative, a governmental program that aims to ultimately build a number of world-class universities and disciplines by the end of 2050. UIBE was listed among the first 137 universities to offer Applied Economics.

Current Facts

Faculty

948 Chinese teachers and 253 international teachers (including 41 full-time and 212 part-time).

Staff

728

Academic calendar

Two 18-week semesters and a one-month Summer School in July

Degree programs

46 Undergraduate programs

62 Graduate programs

25 Doctoral programs

Ranking

UIBE was ranked 34th in the 2019 Shanghai Ranking of Top Chinese Universities and was recognized as a top tier university in economics. The university has four A-level disciplines in the Fourth Round China Discipline Ranking by China Academic Degrees and Graduate Education Development Center of the Ministry of Education.

In 2020, Times Higher Education (THE) released the ranking of universities in emerging economies. UIBE ranked 159th in the world, ranking first in China's financial and economic universities.

In the THE University Impact ranking released by Times Higher Education (THE) in 2020, UIBE is in the range of 301-400 in the world, ranking 4th in China.

Full-time enrollment

Chinese students: 8620 undergraduates and 5381 graduates (inclusive of 665 doctoral candidates). International students: 3435 in total from over 160 countries.

Employment statistics (September 2019)

98.26%– undergraduates

99.41%– graduates

100%– PhD graduates

International Accreditation

UIBE Business School is accredited by EQUIS, AACSB and AMBA. It became the fifth university in China to receive all three accreditations. In addition, UIBE Business Administration and Financial Management is accredited by NCPA.

Confucius Institutes

UIBE has established 10 Confucius Institutes located in Japan, Russia, Greece, Mexico, Brazil, Malawi, the United Kingdom, Australia, North Korea and Republic of Korea.

Cumulative Donation (December 2019)

Over CNY 257 million

Academic Programs

UIBE offers a wide range of academic programs leading to bachelor, master, and doctoral degrees such as economics, business management, law, and linguistics. The university aims to create an open group from applied economics, international economic law, business management, and accounting to develop UIBE as a world-class university. Besides academic degree programs, UIBE offers professional degree programs, distance learning programs, and executive development programs for Chinese and foreign personnel working with Chinese and foreign enterprises, public institutions, scholars, professionals, and other high-end talents.

Research

From the inception of the university in 1951 to present, UIBE quickly took the leading role within international trade and economics research and education. Today, UIBE has 127 research institutes and centers. The China Institute for WTO Studies at UIBE is unique and was rated as a key research institute of humanities and social sciences in Chinese universities. In 2019, UIBE received a high ranking due to the university's development and growth of seven national key research projects.

UIBE actively works together with government bodies, enterprises, public institutions and international organizations. The university partnerships include the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD), the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO), the World Trade Organization (WTO), the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC), the Asian Development Bank (ADB) and the Boao Forum for Asia (BFA).

UIBE hosts over a hundred symposiums and workshops every year. In 2019, the UIBE faculty published 150 academic works and 1324 academic papers, including 361 published within international key journals and 391 published in national key journals.

International cooperation and exchange

UIBE attaches great importance to international cooperation and exchange. The university established formal partnerships with 300 overseas universities and international organizations. UIBE encourages dialogue and exchange between students from both China and other countries through a myriad of cultural exchange activities and overseas academic programs that foster students' world vision. In 2019, about 1000 UIBE students participated in overseas exchange programs.

International students

With the enrollment of the first international students in 1954, UIBE became one of the first universities in China to admit international students. Currently, it is home to 3435 international students from over 160 countries and regions that account for over 75% of students in academic programs. UIBE remains among the top three Chinese universities that enroll high numbers of international students.

UIBE is one of the few universities in China that offer full programs in both Chinese and English to international students. The university has special high-end scholarship programs, including: the International Executive MBA (IEMBA) in developing countries supported by the Ministry of Commerce of P.R. China, the Master of International Economic Cooperation (MIEC) supported by the Ministry of Education of P.R. China, the AIIB Master of International Finance (AMIF), the Master of Customs Administration (MCA) supported by the Silk Road Scholarship Program, the Master of WTO Law and Economics (MWLE), and the Master of International Business and Cross-border E-Commerce (IBCE), to name a few.

Providing Chinese language culture teaching resources and services worldwide

The International Business Chinese Language Teaching and Resource Development Center (Beijing) of UIBE makes full use of the unique discipline advantages of the university to train teachers, publish textbooks and e-teaching materials, organize cross-cultural conferences and workshops in and outside China, provide international teaching, and organize HSK and BCT. UIBE is the Chinese Secretariat of the Association for Sino-Russian Economic Universities, and home to China Center for International People-to-People Exchange (CCIPE) of the Ministry of Education, P.R. China.

