

The Visiting Scholar Program

HOSTED BY VNU-IS

Vietnam National University, Hanoi (VNU) is an affiliated member of VNU providing undergraduate and graduate programs entirely in foreign languages which are designed in line with advanced programs from the world's prestigious universities.

The Visiting Scholar Program (VSP) hosted by VNU-IS was established in 2016 under the Decision of the former VNU President who is now the Minister of the Ministry of Education and Training.

The VSP has connected visiting scholars with various VNU-IS research groups to conduct joint research projects and for co-publishing papers in ISI/Scopus journals.

The scholars are also conduits between VNU-IS and large research projects with international funding, in which these scholars serve as leaders or co-leaders of various projects, chaired by VNU-IS. The VSP regularly hosts international conferences, workshops and seminars, offering visiting scholars, researchers and lecturers opportunities to share their knowledge and experience to promote exchanges, interactions and cooperation among all stakeholders.
