

THE Awards Asia 2020 - Teaching and Learning Strategy of the Year

Institution Name	National Yunlin University of Science and Technology
Submission title or project name	An Innovative and Integrative Teaching and Learning System at YunTech
Submission	National Yunlin University of Science and Technology (YunTech) incorporated industrial issues, school responsibilities, research and innovation into its existing curriculum in 2018. As a result of this new development, 27 project-based learning (PBL) research centers have been established, emphasising their mission to create effective links between academia and industry. These PBL research centers aid YunTech in developing and delivering “student-centered learning, adaptive talent cultivation (goal), educational innovation (strategy), and teaching and learning in society and industries”. Such attributes are considered to be important in establishing a future YunTech that, by 2025, will provide a technical and vocational education for students that is uniquely characteristic of Taiwan.
